- They only put the laser lights and modern music on if you request SEVERAL TIMES. I had my sons birthday party here and we literally had to ask 3 different times during the party before they did it. Once they did it more people that wasn't even with the party came in because it was a cool atmosphere to be in. However, as soon as the party was over, they turned all the regular lights back on, turned on bland music, and the workers sat around and ate pizza together. I also didn't like that they didn't have enough bowling shoes for the kids at the party. They had to bowl bare foot....
